WELCOME TABLE

Joyce is a graduate of the Wolfson School of Nursing at Westminster in London, England. Her work experience as a mid-wife, a Neonatal Intensive Care Unit nurse, a hospice nurse and later as a Health Care Patient Advocate reinforced her natural spirit of compassion and concern, not only for those patients and their families but for their communities.

Joyce has been a member of St James' Episcopal Church since the late 1990s. She and her husband, Rudolph Green, have been deeply involved in the Austin arts and culture community throughout their marriage.
